The Washington Treaty.

Last mail brought the first semi-official copy of the Washington Treaty which has reached this Province. It is understood that the negotiators did not mean to include British Columbia within the Treaty, but as documents sometimes bear constructions that were never intended, we have carefully read the Protocol and Text, and have come to the following conclusions:

1. The protocols of Conference, showing the process by which the Commission arrived at the conclusions embodied in the Treaty, may be so construed as to favor the inclusion of British Columbia.
2. The fishery articles of the Treaty, with which this Province is importantly concerned, are not very clear.
3. The whole Treaty—protocols and text—cannot be held to include British Columbia, on the ordinary rules of interpretation for such documents.

We will discuss those points in the order in which we have stated them, in a series of articles which we hope will be useful in assisting the judgment of our Senators and members in any practical action which they may see fit to recommend to the Dominion Government at Ottawa. We will examine, in the first place, the protocols of the Conference. The first important document is the letter of Sir Ed Thornton to Mr Fish, dated Washington Jan 26th, 1871. This letter states the ground on which the British Government proposed a conference. He says that England wants to come to a "friendly and complete" understanding with the United States as to the extent of the rights which belong to the subjects and citizens of the two countries respectively with reference to the fisheries on the coasts of Her Majesty's possessions in North America, and as to any other questions between them which affect the relations of the United States towards these possessions. This phraseology is comprehensive, and without doubt includes British Columbia and the fisheries of British Columbia. The practical proposal, however, which Sir E Thornton goes on to make, is of limited character—rather too limited, one might think, for the purpose of arriving at a "friendly and complete understanding." Sir E Thornton proposes that a Joint High Commission be appointed by the two Governments to "treat of and discuss the mode of settling the different questions which have arisen out of the fisheries, as well as those which affect the relations of the United States towards Her Majesty's possessions in North America." In reading these words "out of the fisheries," the reader asks himself "what fisheries?" Is it "fisheries that had been the subject already of Conventions or Treaties?" or "fisheries" as defined in the previous paragraph of Sir Edward Thornton's letter, namely "fisheries on the coast of H M possessions in North America?" The latter might be considered as a fair interpretation, being consistent with the object aimed at, namely, a complete understanding, and also with the context of Sir E Thornton's letter. If the latter be the true interpretation, then it seems that the fisheries of British Columbia, (as one of the H M possessions in North America) were comprehended within the scope of the proposition of the English government and would properly have come before the Commission provided that any difference "had arisen" between the two governments with respect to those fisheries. It is rather important to settle this point because, as we shall show, the limitation of the proposed discussion to questions only that "had arisen" in time past, was abandoned by the Commission and the whole field of discussion was thrown open—with the effect of making the argument turn more especially on the meaning of the word "fisheries" in the Protocols and Text. The second branch of Sir E Thornton's proposal was that the Commission should consider "those questions which affect the relations of the United States towards Her Majesty's possessions in North America." This means North American international questions generally, other than fishery questions. The language would certainly include British Columbia. Proceeding now with the consideration of the protocol documents in their order, we come to Mr Fish's reply, 30th January 1871, to the above letter of Sir E Thornton. Mr Fish carefully recites in full the proposal of Sir E Thornton, which he views favorably, but he explains that the President wishes the Alabama Claims also to be considered by the Commission. This was finally agreed to by the British Government, on condition that the British claims for property lost in the civil war, without default of the owners, should similarly be a subject for discussion. At this stage the Commissioners received their formal powers. The American Commission was empowered generally to discuss the mode of settling the different questions which should come before the commission. "The fisheries" is an expression used in their letter of instructions meaning, presumably, the "fisheries" mentioned in the previous correspondence between Sir E Thornton and Mr Fish. The English Commissioners received their powers by a Royal letter of appointment, 16 Feb. 1871. This instrument strictly limits the powers of the English Commissioners to "questions on which differences have arisen" between "us and our good friends the United States of America." It does not cover even the whole proposal of Sir Edward Thornton, because in addition to the fisheries question he proposed to consider "those questions which affect the relations of the United States towards H M possessions in North America." The Royal letter of appointment, 16 Feb. 1871, was no doubt intended to be framed, more or less, upon the correspondence which had passed previously between the Governments, but in all probability some old form was followed, the terms of which were not very closely scanned. At all events, it appears to an outsider that the defect in the powers of the English Commissioners was quickly discovered and practically cured. This appears from the fact that, at their first sitting 27th Feb. 1871, the Joint Commissioners, acting then, and afterwards, as the public believe, in constant communication, by telegraph or otherwise, with their respective governments, determined upon two things, namely—1. That the subject for discussion should be those mentioned in the correspondence between the Governments. 2. That the discussion might include such other matters as might be mutually agreed upon. The English Commissioners evidently received, or were considered to possess, more extensive powers than were conferred by their original letter of appointment—their amended powers probably being equal to those possessed by the American Commissioners. They, as a matter of fact, proceeded to deal with matters as to which no differences "had arisen," and which, consequently, were beyond their original powers—for instance, the northwest rivers, Yukon, &c. Perhaps it would be correct to say that the Commission had the power and exercised the power of dealing with whatever they might agree to discuss. The conference became a conference between two governments directly, through the Commissioners, as mouthpieces. From the above, then, it appears that the limitation (in Sir E Thornton's proposal and in the letter of appointment) of the discussion to questions on which differences "had arisen," was abandoned by the Commission and an endeavor made broadly to secure a "friendly and complete" understanding between the two countries, both as to questions which had arisen and which were imminent. This point should be noted, because otherwise it might be said as far as the Protocols were concerned, "The Commission proposed and was in fact empowered only to deal with questions on which differences 'had arisen.' Apart from the northwest water boundary question, which was a specified question, no differences had arisen between the two governments as to any British Columbia question, consequently the Treaty was not meant to apply to British Columbia. Again, in considering the Treaty itself by the light of the Protocols, it may be said it is not limited to the eastern portion of the continent; the Treaty deals with British Columbia and Northwest Canadian matters. British Columbian matters, other than the water boundary question, could easily have been excepted had such been the intention, but the Province is not excepted. As to the fisheries two preliminary correspondence which was adopted by the Commission as a basis for discussion mentions broadly, as already said, 'the fisheries on the coast of Her Majesty's possessions in North America,' which possessions include British Columbia, also Hudson Bay and Arctic fisheries. There is no limitation of the proposed discussion to the fisheries of the Dominion of Canada, nor to the fisheries of the Eastern portion merely of Her Majesty's possessions in North America. The terms are comprehensive. Some further light on this fishery matter is contained in the Protocols. On the 6th March the British Commissioners stated that they were prepared to discuss the question of the fisheries either in detail or generally, so as either to enter into an examination of the respective rights of the two countries under the Treaty of 1818 and the general law of nations, or to approach at once the settlement of the question on a comprehensive basis. The American Commissioners adopted the latter proposal. Whatever be the meaning of this proposal, it certainly removed the discussion far away from the narrow ground originally proposed in Sir E Thornton's letter Jan 26, 1871. Instead of examining the respective rights of the two countries under the Treaty of 1818 with which we believe British Columbia was not concerned, the whole fisheries question namely the 'fisheries' on the coast of H M possessions in North America—was agreed to be treated on a "comprehensive basis." Rights springing from international law or defined by treaties were to be the basis not the limit of discussion. This rather cuts the ground from any argument adverse to the inclusion of British Columbia which might be drawn from the fact that former treaties or fishery conventions referred to the eastern portion of the continent only. In the case of the Washington Treaty, the former conventions were to be set aside and the fishery question especially was to be treated on a comprehensive basis 'with the view of arriving at a complete understanding.' What a comprehensive basis precisely means we are unable to say, but a settlement could not fairly be considered 'comprehensive' or 'complete' between the two countries which excluded a Province in whose waters the fishermen of the two nations are meeting every year in greater numbers, and at any time may renew in the West the old disputes of the East. The above narration brings matters to the stage at which the Commissioners proceeded to discuss the fishery articles which are embodied in the Treaty. We will take another opportunity of remarking upon these articles.

NEWS! NEWS!

The "British Colonist" is the only Newspaper published at Victoria that receives the Latest Telegraphic Dispatches, as a comparison will prove. Late Telegrams appearing in any other paper are copied without credit 24 hours after they have appeared in the British Colonist. The circulation of the British Colonist being double that of any other Paper Published in British Columbia, it offers the best medium to Advertisers.

Esquimalt District.

The Nomination in this District will take place at the School house, Esquimalt, at noon to-day. The addresses appear in the papers of seven candidates, viz: Messrs A Robertson, W Fisher, H S Caulier, C B Brown, A Peatt, W W Gibbs and H Cogan. It is said that Judge Cameron will offer himself at the hustings and should he do so Esquimalt will be better provided for in the way of candidates than any other District. Even Victoria City has but six aspirants to four seats. Of the seven Esquimalt aspirants it is generally conceded that there is no danger of Messrs Cogan, Peatt, Gibbs and Brown getting in; and should Mr Cameron offer himself we are positively assured that his prospects are equally good. Such being the case, the contest is narrowed down to Messrs Robertson, Caulier and Fisher. It would be well if the electors were to recognize that fact before polling day comes on. Of the three leading candidates Mr Robertson stands very high in the District (as he does everywhere) and will be returned at the head of the poll. Mr Fisher has secured a large number of pledges in Esquimalt Town and in the District and being both able and experienced will press very closely upon Mr Robertson's heels. The only objection which we have heard urged to Mr Fisher is his extraordinary attitude on the Tariff question, yet a spirit of justice compels us to say that his position in that respect is less absurd than were he to promise the Electors (what he knows they can't get) a modification of the present tariff; or, as Mr Brown put it the other evening, a modification of the Canadian tariff! Mr Caulier is a Canadian tariff man and will poll a considerable vote. Being a practical farmer he would be supposed to look after the interests of that large and increasing class, while he also kept his eyes open to advance the commercial interests of the district. There is one point, however, which we wish to impress strongly upon the minds of Esquimalt Electors. Your immediate prosperity depends more upon the speedy construction of the Dry Dock and the retention of the Naval Station than upon the adoption of a tariff which you may imagine is suited to your farming interests. If these two desiderata be secured your advancement will be assured. Whether you attain these objects is the near or distant future will depend altogether upon the character of the men you send to represent your interests in the next Legislature. If you select men without influence or experience—without the ability to lay your wants clearly before the most accomplished speakers in the Province, and to urge your claims upon the attention of the Government and the Legislature, you will have but yourselves to blame should your best interests be neglected and the bright visions you have formed of future prosperity rudely dissipated. Remember! the Dry Dock and the Naval Station are the lodestone upon which you must fix your attention during the coming contest.

Victoria City District.

It is, perhaps, scarcely necessary for us to repeat to-day the opinion we ventured to express a month ago with respect to the candidates for Victoria City. The return of Messrs McCrindle, Trimble and Duck we look upon as absolutely certain. All are extremely popular men whose political views are perfectly in accord with those of a large majority of the electors and it would really seem that the only point at issue between the three candidates is a good-natured rivalry as to which gentleman shall head the poll. Mr McMillan's chances of election are so despatched that his claims are scarcely worth consideration. As a private citizen we entertain the highest respect for Mr McMillan, but in politics he is the creature of impulse and surroundings; is bigoted and narrow-minded to the last degree; has no stability of purpose or enlarged views, and would be excessively intolerant were the opportunity afforded him. Although assuredly not a bad man at heart, he is too weak to be trusted for a single moment in politics. Between Messrs Eavan and Williams the real contest will be. These gentlemen occupy the same position before the electors. They are untired men, represent no party or clique, entertain identical views on the tariff and other important questions, and are liberal in their sentiments. Either would make a good member, but much depends upon the manner in which they may acquit themselves at the hustings to-day as to which will be selected.

The Senators.

We have heard a doubt expressed as to the correctness of our report that Messrs Helmeck, Carrall and Cornwall have each been tendered the position of Senator by the Dominion Government. To this we would say that the report—although it did not emanate from either the Governor or from any other gentleman connected with the Government—is entirely correct, and was obtained from undoubted authority. The selections are wise and sensible and the call which the Dominion has made upon the services of the gentlemen will, we hope, receive a favorable response from them.

DIAMOND HOUSE.—The following tenders for the additional two stories to be erected upon the Diamond House, were opened yesterday at the office of Mr Ch Vereyden, architect: David Shade, for the whole work, $5584; Kinman & Styles, for the whole, $5472; Hayward & Jenkinson, $5449; Mr Humber, without additions, $4623; P Eddy, for the whole, excepting painting and roofing, $3492; Eli Harrison, painting, $180; S L Kelly, roofing, $150. The three last being the lowest were accepted. The hotel will have a Mansard roof. The work will be commenced at once under the superintendence of Mr Vereyden.

Nanaimo.

The funeral of the late Robt Parkins, whose melancholy death was announced on Friday last, took place on Friday. The services were conducted by the Rev Thos Derrick, and were of the most impressive character. The remains were followed to their last resting place by sorrowing friends and acquaintances of the deceased, and by one of the largest funeral processions ever witnessed in Nanaimo. On Sunday evening the funeral sermon was preached by the Rev Thos Derrick in the Wesleyan Church. The discourse was a most able and touching one and was listened to with the utmost attention by one of the largest congregations ever assembled in the town. Ebenezer Church being crowded to the very door.

Political.

The first political public meeting ever held on Gabriola Island took place in the house of Mr Thomas McGuffee, on Saturday last. The meeting was called by Mr Robson, and Mr Richard White, one of the settlers, occupied the chair. The meeting was well attended and lasted for about four hours, having been addressed by both candidates. The debate was of a most interesting character, and was deserving of more attention than they have received from the Government in the past. They seem fully alive to their own interests and rights in this respect.

Judicial.

Judge Spalding held Court on Monday. There was very little business to be transacted, two only deserving notice. The crew of the Zephyr were on shore on Saturday night, having a "good time" before going to sea, in the course of which one of them drew a knife on his comrades and stabbed one of them, though not seriously. He was arrested and locked up. On Sunday the Zephyr went to sea and, consequently, there was no one to appear against the prisoner, so he was discharged, but he was left behind, and a subscription was raised amongst the Newcastle Island Quartermen—some of whom knew him—to enable him to get home.

Mr Satche entered suit against the Captain of the Zephyr on account of some timber used by the latter, and respecting the value of which a dispute had arisen. The legal blunderbuss missed fire, however, through the constable having neglected to read the summons to the Captain in serving it. The Captain, it appears, refused to take the summons, and the Constable threw it down at his feet on the deck of the ship without having first read it to him. The Captain declined to recognize such service and, consequently did not heed the summons.

NEW WESTMINSTER ITEMS.—The Guardian says that the cranberry crop is short. His Honor the Lieut Governor has promised to do all he can to forward the Agricultural Show. Mr McRoberts has tendered the use of his cattle shed and lots to the Show Committee, and Mr Grahame has offered to forward articles to the Show free of charge. Mr F Eckhoff has lost his only surviving child through diphtheria. The crew of the bark Maud Helen are cutting up their didoes, and the captain complains that they have threatened his life again. The New Westminster City election takes place on the 23d inst; and the District election on the 18th. The shooting for the prize cups will be on Saturday next.

CURE FOR DIARRHOEA.—Several fatal cases of diarrhoea having occurred in this city, it is following paragraph, which we clip from the Gleaner, would seem to be appropriate.

To the Editor:—Many people are suffering, and children dying, from diarrhoea. A large teaspoonful of raw arrowroot mixed in a little warm (not hot) water or milk and drank off whilst being kept in solution by stirring, will prove a pleasant and effective cure. The dose may be repeated if required, but once or twice is generally sufficient.

THE AMATEUR PERFORMANCE.—Surely the gentlemen composing the Naval Amateur Company of H M S Zulus are deserving of a public ovation. The dramatic performance so generously tendered the Mechanics Institute netted the handsome sum of $130, which amount was paid over yesterday by Lieut Rardley-Wilmot to the Honorary Treasurer of the Institute, Colonial Secretary Good.

THE STEAMER ENTERPRISE arrived from New Westminster yesterday afternoon with 4 cows, 30 bales of wool and the following passengers:—Mrs Cafferty, Mrs Eickoff, Mrs Tremor, Miss Delaire, Rev Woods, Capt Boez, F Eickoff, Arnold, Hodgson, Hakanan, J Wilkison, Capt McKinnon.

H. M. S. SPARROWHAWK.—This vessel is being prepared for a survey. It is reported that the officers and crew of the present commission will leave in about a month for home; but it is doubtful if the ship will be removed.

PERMANENT.—Last evening E Gracoini, Esq, for many years Treasurer of the Union Block and Ladder Company, was presented by the members with a handsome gold-headed cane of the value of $40 as a token of his valuable services.

NEW AND RICH CREEK.—The Guardian says a rumor is afloat that a new creek has been discovered at Cariboo. Nothing is yet known except that it is very rich.

EUREKA SILVER LEAD.—A letter received yesterday announces that this seam is eight feet wide and that the quality of the ore grows richer as the tunnel is pushed.

H. M. S. BOXER, with Admiral Farquhar on board, sailed for New Westminster yesterday.

The French bark Andre, from Burrard Inlet for Valparaiso, sailed into the outer harbor yesterday.

POLICE COURT.—There were no cases before this institution yesterday.

Pastoral Simplicity.

EDITOR COLONIST.—There would appear to be no bounds to the ignorance (?) displayed by the correspondents of the Standard on the most common subjects that affect the Province.

I wonder if O P Q, who writes about a suspension bridge at Lillooet that "there being no use for a magistrate there" (I wonder where he learned that)—his, i e the magistrate's, salary of $3000 goes to roads and bridges. I wonder, I say again, if Mr O P Q has any idea that from and after the 20th July last all the magistrates' salaries have been paid by the Dominion. If O P Q will peep into the Civil List Bill, he will see that there is not a single salary put down for magistrates. Of course he did not know that. I have no doubt he is a simple-minded and harmless pastoral youth.

Perhaps his name is H—y.

WALKER.

The Late Accident to a Mail Coach.

EDITOR COLONIST.—A paragraph appears in the Mainland Guardian in reference to the recent stage accident on the Yale road, so completely designed to mislead the public as to its gravity that a few remarks may not be inopportune. It is said that one of the horses "slid at some brushwood lying across the road," and this is given as the reason why the stage was overturned. This reason is more than doubtful. Did not the mishap arise rather out of the fact that the driver, who had been on the box four days and nights consecutively, without any rest, had become physically and mentally incapacitated for his task, and was not holding his reins efficiently? If we may judge from the observations made by some who followed the track made by the stage that it had repeatedly neared the edge of the bank for some distance, I think it was so. The public is left to infer from the partial information given that the coach, merely capsize, whereas it went twenty feet over the bank, and was prevented from going further by a log which, fortunately, arrested its progress.

Language strong enough can hardly be used adequately to characterize the conduct of the proprietor of a line of stages who could permit a man to take charge of a load of passengers through so dangerous a canyon by night in the state in which he must have been, when he himself might have afforded the necessary relief in person as easily as not. Had a neck been broken, an action for manslaughter would have had good, for such wanton recklessness of human life.

The passengers aver that they were forcibly compelled to induce the driver to keep him awake. It indeed almost a miracle that every person was not killed.

MONTRÉAL, Sept 15.—The sale of tickets for Nilsson's concert began yesterday morning at Prince's. More than $3000 worth of tickets were sold before night.

WALKERTON, Sept 7.—A little boy about five years of age, son of a farmer named James Thompson, living in Carleton, three miles from here, was accidentally killed last night in a shocking manner. His father was drawing in grain, and the child was minding a gap in the fence through which the team was passing to and fro to the field. Fearing that rain might come on, Thompson went for a load after dark, and the child again following him without being noticed took up his position in the gap, when it seems it lay down and fell asleep. On coming back with a load the unhappy father drove over his sleeping child and crushed his head to pieces. The little fellow was not missed for some time, but was soon discovered dead and cold with his brains scattered on the wagon track.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—A fine new hall capable of containing upwards of 1000 people, with theatre, concert rooms, &c., &c., which bears the euphonious cognomen of Spettigue Hall. It is now furnishing and will be inaugurated in a manner worthy of its name on the 16th inst.

Goldwin Smith is now a property owner in Toronto. He intends spending the summer months there. He is preparing a work on Canada.

A beautiful young woman, aged only 18 years, met with her death at her father's house—Mr John Cunningham, of Wolford, Ont. Miss Cunningham was left in charge of the house during the absence of her parents. After sending her brothers to school she was left alone on the premises. On her parents' return soon after noon, upon going into the dining room they found no table laid, and upon attempting to go up stairs to search for their daughter they found her dead body with the neck broken lying upon the stairs. It is supposed the poor girl missed her footing and fell down stairs.

Lieut. Governor Wilmot, of New Brunswick who is now in Montreal is very active in the cause of Wesleyan Sunday Schools. Yesterday he addressed St James' Street Sunday School scholars with great effect.

Canadian thistles have spread enormously through the country this season and as the farmers have been generally short of help the seed has been allowed to go to seed in every farm through the Ottawa Valley, so that next year's crop of thistles is expected to be more abundant than profitable.

Old Things Have Passed Away

This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to the torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature, and endeavours to assist her in her right against disease. This is the province of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most approved tonic ever advertised in this country. It may be recommended as a fall medicine, par excellence; for it is in the fall that biliousness, dyspepsia and malarious fevers are especially prevalent. The frame, exhausted by the heats of summer is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say, a judicious artificial assistance. Afford that assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the unhealthy season of the western coast, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to-day. Had a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters been commenced by the sufferer a month ago, i e before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eighths of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for want of forecast. So much for not keeping in the house, and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and epidemic fevers.

As flocks of impostors and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trade marks. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon kegs.

A PERFUMED TOOTH WASH!

Mix a teaspoonful of MURRAY & LANMAN'S, FLORIDA WATER in a tumbler of pure soft water and you have a tooth-wash far superior to all the lotions and dentifrices ever offered for sale. It will not injure the enamel; will heal all tenderness or soreness of the gums or mouth, and will impart a most delightful fragrance to the breath.

If there are counterfeits possessing none of these hygienic properties always ask for the Florida water prepared by Lanman & Kempe New York.

Europe.

LONDON, Oct 10.—The excitement in regard to the fire in Chicago increases so intensely as the full extent of the damage becomes known. A subscription will be opened for the relief of the sufferers. LONDON, Oct 10.—Gladstone has announced the determination of the government not to yield to the efforts made for the release of the remaining Fenians on the ground that their offences are not political.

The news of the terrible conflagration in Chicago excites a deep feeling of sympathy and had a depressing effect on American rolling and railway securities. Erie is quoted 2 per cent lower than yesterday.

MADRID, Oct 10.—Senor Alvaro is appointed to the civil government of the city. Political excitement is rife here since the assembling of the Cortes. The antagonistic feeling between Calles and Zorrillo is increasing. The order issued by the Prince forbidding soldiers to belong to political associations is renewed.

LONDON, Oct 10.—Advices from Rio Janeiro state that five articles of the emancipation bill will be passed to a second reading in the Senate. The friends of the bill are confident of its final adoption.

Eastern States.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct 10.—The election was quiet in most of the wards. In the 4th and 5th wards the colored voters complained of intimidation and the police were charged by the Mayor to protect them. In the 15th Ward a woman tendered her vote—which was refused Judge Allison, of the Court of Common Pleas, rejected an application for a mandamus to compel the reception of her vote, and was sustained by his brother Judge.

Later.—Serious riots have broken out in the southern part of the city. A number of men have been killed and 20 wounded. Three brigades of militia have been ordered to the scene of trouble. Haggerty, a lieutenant of police, has been arrested and held in $1000 to answer to a charge of obstructing the polls.

PITTSBURGH, Oct 10.—The vote is very light today. Allegheny county gives between four and five thousand Republican majority and Geary about the same. Every Republican member of the House save one is elected. Messrs Rogers from the western part of the State show uniform small Republican gains over Geary's vote.

NEW YORK, Oct 11.—A St Louis dispatch states that the Chicago fire was extinguished by a heavy rain. A general appeal of the authorities goes out for help and the whole country is aroused to succor. There was a fearful panic in Wall street at the loss by the Chicago fire in elevators, banks, hotels, theatres, RR depots and warehouses.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 10.—The steamers Wonga Wonga for Australia and Moses Taylor, connecting with the Nevada at Honolulu for Auckland and Sydney, sail at the same time tomorrow, and a trans-Pacific race will be the result, as the time made will be a fair test of the capacity of the rival ships.

Stock in some of the insurance companies which was at par or nearly so two days ago, is offered to be given away in some instances, the holders fearing to be called upon for their pro rata of losses in the companies' present straits.

THE GREAT FIRE AT CHICAGO!

TERRIBLE RAVAGES!

CHICAGO, Oct 10.—The general agent of the Etna fire insurance company of Hartford announces that the company in the west and south will be kept up to the night. The Commercial National Bank will commence rebuilding on the old site tomorrow morning. The fire broke out in West Washington street. They opened their vaults this afternoon and found all their books and papers, money and securities in perfect order. It is a rumor that in a house near the burning site the bodies of fifteen men were found, burned to a crisp. They rushed into the shop to escape from the flames, which had surrounded them before they discovered their peril. An immense number of people are missing and for the purpose of aiding in the discovery of such persons a central intelligence office has been established, where the names of all missing ones are taken and given to the police. The entire north division is swept clean from Chicago river to Wright's bridge, a distance of over three miles. But one house, that of M D Ogden, remains standing in the entire district. A large portion of the population driven from this desolated ground are camped on the prairie to the north, where they have no food but the supply of heaven to cover them, and are scarcely enough to satisfy their hunger.

A meeting of citizens was held this evening at which resolutions were passed recommending Gov. Palmer to call an extra session of the legislature at once. Ex Gov Oglesby was appointed to proceed to Springfield and lay the matter before Gov Palmer.

All the packing houses and many of the elevators remain unburned, and these two branches of Chicago's property will be but slightly interrupted. The directors of the chamber of commerce met to-day and resolved to proceed at once with the rescue of their elegant edifice. Two companies of U S infantry arrived this evening and will be at once put on patrol duty; 800 men and a large number of rations have also arrived—being all sent in response to the telegraphic order of Lt Gen Sheridan.

A. GILMORE, MERCHANT TAILOR, and General Outfitter, has removed his place of business to the store adjoining the Colonial Hotel and opposite the Colonist Office, on Government street, fourth door from Yates, where he proposes to give his old friends and new customers a chance on the principle of quick sales and small profits.

EMINENT CUTLERS.—Among the names of the most prominent manufacturers of cutlery are found those of Wostenholm, Mappin, Crooks, Harrison and Josiah Rogers & Sons. The latter has for a series of years held the prestige for excellence, and has been awarded the prizes at the Industrial Exhibitions; and at present the sole importers in this Province are T N HINX & Co.

It is useless to attempt to clean a stream while the fountain is impure. Dyspepsia, complaints of the liver or kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scurvy, headaches, and all diseases arising from impure blood, are at once removed by DR WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, the great and infallible purifier of the blood, and renovator of the system. WILLIAM FISHER, ESQ.
Dear Sir,—We the undersigned electors and inhabitants of the electoral district of Esquimalt, being confident in your ability, request that you will represent us in the local Legislature of this Province, and we hereby pledge ourselves to do our utmost to secure your return.
The measures that a member of the House of Commons may be called on to deal with being different from those of a member of the local Legislature, it is to be expected that a candidate should be at least one of them that more directly concern our interests. I will say, then, that having been one of the earliest advocates of a Canadian Transcontinental Railway, I shall, if elected, consider it to be my paramount duty in view of making it a grand national success, to insist that the Terms should be so framed as to meet with the concurrence of the agricultural, mining and commercial interests of our district.
As the Dominion now possesses exclusively the right to manage our postal and telegraphic affairs, I shall expect to see for the future the Railway and the Telegraph as a superior class to the one now plying on the coast, and also better mail facilities in each settlement;
and I deem it to be of great importance commercially to have the most rapid and efficient service of mail communication between Esquimalt and Victoria, I shall urge the Federal Government to the importance of the early construction of a telegraph line to connect the two principal towns in the interior of the Dominion.
The increasing importance of the commerce of the Interior renders it necessary to have more lighthouses. I shall therefore urge the Government to build a light-house on the Pacific Coast, and to erect other whereas as soon as possible, to ensure greater safety and economy.
With respect to the Indians I will urge that they be settled on Reservations, under the supervision of Government agents, where they may, with the assistance of the local Government, be enabled to improve their condition, and to have their social, moral and religious conditions rapidly improved.
The question of the early construction of a Marine Hospital at Esquimalt I deem to be deserving of serious consideration.
The Geological Survey now begun will doubtless be of great practical advantage to the country, and anything that will tend to hasten its progress will be a valuable contribution to the welfare of the Province, and I shall not fail to urge its completion.
The fisheries along our coast promise to become very important, and I shall urge the Government to agree to extend its protection and encouragement to that valuable and important branch of industry. I will endeavor to have the most rapid and efficient service of any and that may be appropriated for that purpose.
Not being able at this time to explain my views at greater length, I will take an early opportunity to meet you, and to discuss the various questions at length.
In conclusion, I shall say that I am confident that the local Government will be able to do much for the welfare of the Province, and I shall endeavor to do my utmost to assist it in its efforts.
I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
